

Veronica Hays is the Digital Training Manager at Leadership Institute where she facilitates trainings for Conservatives around the world.

Previously, Veronica was a Culture Blogger for the Media Research Center. She attended George Mason University where she studied International Relations. Veronica is a native of Northern Virginia and sole sister to five wonderful brothers.